Capstone certification description

The Dental Assistant - Dental Science capstone assesses candidates' abilities to assist dental professionals in clinical and administrative tasks. Dental Science 1 introduces foundational skills such as chairside assisting, patient preparation, front office responsibilities, dental laboratory procedures, and an introduction to radiology. Dental Science 2 and Dental Science 3 expand on these competencies, evaluating proficiency in advanced chairside techniques, patient care, office management, and radiographic procedures. Together, the three certifications provide a comprehensive foundation for candidates to succeed in dental practices and prepare for career advancement in the dental field.
